Spirit Work by Karoline Lewis—Craft of Preaching ...

Barbara Brown Taylor’s witness to the work of the Spirit in her life might just be the homiletic we need on Pentecost Sunday. Each of these texts is a testimony to the fact that, as Taylor said, “the Holy Spirit is something we trust, not something we understand.” Our sermons then might inquire, what do we trust the Spirit to do?

this selection of sermons, Barbara Brown Taylor, an Episcopal Priest, walks us through the church year, from the expectancy of Advent to the fires of Pentecost and beyond. Her themes arise from the particular feasts or fasts, as well as from the perennial questions of faith: doubt, grace, anger, and

A service of worship in Duke University Chapel. The Rev. Barbara Brown Taylor delivers a sermon entitled "The Grace of Good Works."

Barbara Brown Taylor has a way of re-telling familiar stories that make them come alive, and give a fresh perspective. These are the texts of her brief talks covering the full liturgical year, beginning with Advent and continuing on past Pentecost. Her prose is simply gorgeous. In reading some of these talks, I laughed and cried at the same time.
