BLS2ZO - RAMOS HOOD

Being at school can be difficult. Being unloved can also be difficult. Being different can be extremely difficult. But nothing can be as difficult as something where your mind and soul are both battling for dominance over the side of reality...or the side of fantasy. Three young people, almost strangers, are sucked into a whirlwind together to help each other out in this terrible situation. Do they know whether or not it's real...Do you?

Do you pray? Do you believe in a higher power? If not, you better find faith when you come across me. I'm like a thief in the night. I embrace the monster, the darkness that engulfs me. Call me Michele. Call me Amedeo. Whatever you call me, it will be the last name you scream before meeting your maker. Deception will take you on a twisty mafia ride of love and deceit. Not everyone is who they appear to be.

Watch a farmyard come to life with wonderful peep-through pages and layered landscapes. With simple facts about each scene and so many things to spot, children will spend hours peering through the pages of this beautiful book.

Theoderick Kantor invited his friends to his family castle for the summer hoping to get some well deserved vacation before embarking in a new business with them. To everyone's dismay, his weakness is to help young woman in distress, and the new maid his mother obtained while he was away in London, is no exception. Lili Ann Mayville peeked his interest, but it is her mesmerizing eyes that capture his heart. Lili Ann Mayville lost everything. Her title, her home and her parents. Heart broken, she finds herself helping her cousin at the Kantor's castle. Trying to convince herself that she is well below Theoderick Kantor's title, she is determined to find out what happen to her past, but her heart keeps reminding her that he is the one she wants.

If he plays his cards right, Hollywood (Jayce Morris) is hoping to become a newly patched member of the Gold Vipers, a notorious biker club located in the Midwest. Life is good and he's never been happier, until he becomes the target of an assassin. A woman who isn't just psychotic, but the most beautiful creature he's ever laid eyes on. Growing up in foster care, Ava Rhodes learned how to survive unspeakable abuse at the hands of the very same people paid to protect her. Whenever things turned ugly, she went to that special place in her mind, where childhood memories kept her sane. The faint but cherished ones of her older brother, Andrew, the guy who used to sing her lullabies and make early morning pancakes. Years pass and memories fade... but not completely, and when Ava finally gets her shit together, she decides to search for her long-lost brother. When she learns he's been murdered by the Gold Vipers, she sets out to destroy everyone involved, including Hollywood, one of the last to see Andrew alive. This story contains crude language, sexual situations, and violence. Is not suitable for readers under the age of 18. Please do not buy if any of this offends you. [REDACTED], Goodreads Reviewer Rachel Ryder doesn't understand how her life has changed so completely. When she was younger, heads would turn when she walked into a room. Her children needed her; her husband adored her. But somehow the years wore that all away. She was so busy raising her children, looking after her parents... She can barely remember the woman she used to be, the one whose husband told her she was out of his league. The woman she is now just does the laundry and makes the dinner, and can walk into a room without anyone knowing she's there. She knows that she hated feeling invisible. She knows that she thought: what would it take for you to see me again? And now she's worried that she did something terrible. Because she's sitting in a room, being asked whether she killed someone. Can You See What I See? is Stephanie's maiden voyage into the world of nature spirit photography. Using her digital SLR camera and mobile phone, readers will see some friendly and sometimes not-so friendly faces. Each photo comes with a message from her spirit guides for readers to gain an insight into their own lives. Readers can open up the book at any page and read the message relevant at the time, or just read purely for enjoyment!

A puzzle, a work of art, and a collection of classic American songs, all in an innovative book by one of the world's foremost contemporary artists. Every page of this book is filled with secret code. It seems like Chinese calligraphy, but it's not. It seems like you can't read it, but you can. Once the pieces of the puzzle start falling into place, you will understand it all. And some of it may even strike you as strangely familiar . . . Twelve traditional American songs, such as "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" and "Yankee Doodle," as well as five classic songs from Chinese culture, are written here in artist Xu Bing's unique "square word calligraphy," which uses one-block words made of English letters. From a distance, these pieces are beautiful but unintelligible art. Up close, they are a mystery just waiting to be solved—like the fine art version of "Magic Eye." For readers ages 7 and up, Look! What Do You See? is perfect for long car rides or coded notes to friends. Incredibly intricate and visually engaging, this is a book that children and adults will return to again and again.

A story of family—whether the one you inherit or the one you create—bound together and torn apart in the struggle for a better world. Change rarely comes easily or without a fight. In her much-anticipated fourth novel Beverly Gologorsky takes a close, loving look at the members of a working-class family in the Bronx, each in their own way struggling for a better world. At the heart of the story is Josie, a young woman whose fraught relationship with her family is further stretched by her commitment to anti-Vietnam War activities and her deepening relationship with a rising star in the Black Panther Party. Her brother Johnny is a police officer, rough and judgmental. Closest in age to Josie is sweet Richie, who, inexplicably to her, has just become an enlisted soldier. Her sister Celia is pulled toward activism in the women's fight for equality, but paralyzed by fear for her eldest son who may or may not have blown up an enlistment center. Their lives intertwine through acts of violence, loyalty, and, above all, the bonds of family love and loss. One thing is certain—that in the long run of life, change is inevitable.

Young children are invited to find lists of objects in colorful photographs chock-full of toys and trinkets that they love. So what does Seymour do with that cart full of tools and other objects that he finds along the way? Seymour builds a boat! While kid's have fun, they are learning visual discrimination, colors, counting, classifying, rhyming, phonemic awareness, and more! A teaching guide at the back of the book helps parents and teachers extend the educational value of the book!

Elephant! Elephant! What can you see? Under the lily pad, who could it be? Lift the flaps to help Elephant discover who is hiding underneath. With a mirror under the final flap, this seek-and-find book is perfect for sharing with the very smallest of readers. ,

Look behind colorful flaps to find the friendly creatures hiding in this interactive board book. Includes a surprise mirror ending! Puppy Dog! Puppy Dog! What can you see? Under the lettuce leaf, who could it be? Is it Tortoise? Kitten? Maybe Frog? This interactive board book invites curious little ones to guess the creature that's hiding behind a basket, inside a rain boot, behind a flower pot, and more! The colorful illustrations on the right-hand page hint at what animal it might be, but little ones will have to lift the flap to find out for certain! With five spreads of bright, stylish illustrations, a lovable puppy main character and his butterfly friend, and a surprise mirror on the final page, this is the perfect book to share with the very youngest reader.

This book offers activities that encourage young learners to take note of the world around them. It is divided into three areas of earth study: the geosphere—the solid portion of the earth; the hydrosphere—the waters on the surface of the earth; and the atmosphere—the air surrounding the earth.

For kids starting to think about their place in the world, here's a unique look at point of view. Being small — or big — is not always what we think it is! We all know which things are big, and which are small, right? But do we really? Or do things look different, depending on who's doing the looking? For example, to a human, an orangutan is small like a child. But to a flea, it's gigantic! Here's a quirky and original introduction to the idea of perspective and the importance of recognizing that each of us has our own way of seeing things. Kids who feel too small — or too big — in the world will be happy to learn: Size is in the eye of the beholder!

People think that because Tally's autistic, she doesn't realise what they're thinking, but Tally sees and hears - and notices - all of it. Endearing, insightful and warmly uplifting, this is a story of autism, empathy and kindness that will touch readers of all ages.

"Can You See Me Now?", is the question that men will ask their church community, spouses, children, and even the world after applying these three components: Mission, Fellowship, and Evangelism to their spiritual development. If no one can see you developing as a Christian man; then you probably can't see yourself developing either. If you ask the question "Can You See Me Now?"; What would the response be?

Offers picture puzzles which invite young readers to pick out objects having different colors, sizes, and physical features, in each of twelve fairy tales.

Twelve scary picture puzzles invite children to look and find images hidden in the pictures.

Tally is autistic and proud. She used to feel like she had to hide her autism, but now Tally is determined to make sure people see who she really is. But now Tally has a new worry - her school trip. And that means new places, new people and new challenges. She quickly falls in with the popular girls and is grateful that they don't make a big deal about her autism, but it's not long before Tally realises that, while the girls are popular, they aren't very kind. With a jolt Tally understands that she's not the only one who's been made to feel like she has to hide her true self. But will she find the strength to stand up for herself and the people she knows are being treated unfairly, or will she stay quiet? And will Tally ever find her people?

A rabbi, trying to raise money for his yeshiva in Jerusalem, inadvertently helps two Americans from very different walks of life find each other and fall in love. This book goes behind-the-scenes of the world of Jewish fund-raising to reveal both its noble and not-so-noble character. Many people will recognise the fierce competition and humorous kow-towing that occurs when fund-raisers from yeshivas in Israel solicit American philanthropists.

The creator of the best-selling I Spy series presents a new search-and-find sequence of elaborately illustrated puzzles that takes readers on a journey through time to imagine the travels of a coin from the hull of an 18th-century pirate ship to the shore of a present-day beach.

Mankind always waits until they have nothing else they can do to give time to their surroundings. The life of man has and seems to always be the fault of someone else. From the beginning, he has not given consideration to anything but himself until the fall and this is where God comes in. He had dominion and could not see that he had the power and rule over every little creature, even over the serpent. It is not until he is crossed over by his own mistakes will he identify that God is in charge. God has given us rule, and we blame everyone else for not accomplishing the task given to us by him. If its not the wife, its the children, the job, the lack of money, or the lack of opportunity just to name a few things. When are we going to admit it? We are the problem. We serve a merciful God, and he cares for us more than we can describe or imagine.

This is what I see exaggerated. That is why this is fiction! With me a new twist of the conscious. We think but never speak about the sensitive side. Place in metaphors and statements, presenting reality and a bonus of fiction. Welcome to my sighting, vision, and exaggeration of what could be true. Become my eyes, as you focus on the words. Now can you see what I see? Twisting scenes, transferring thoughts to an emotion, touching the unseen, holding hands with fear, realizing it's truth to an open opinion. This is why I felt compelled to tell the story. A plan from deep within set a sail for my new adventures of what I see, and what I think I see, and to learn the difference. Taught speak no evil, see no evil, hear no evil, so I wrote it instead. These rules were never clarified outside the main ingredients. So telling the story this way makes it easier for my conscience, releasing a poison that was slowly trying to kill a humble soul. Sins and unwanted memories can be at peace, through the conclusion of a fictional story. Or is it? My gift of a fictional horror with an inspirational meaning. Read my exaggeration, and form your opinion of a book called "Can You See What I See?" I'm not a big fan of gambling, but I bet a pocket full of coins that this book is different, heads or tails. P.S. Remember three is a charm. Two more will follow.

This book is for all (everyone), the learned and the not so learned. It entails a path for those who can see and a direction for those who can't. It is a guide for some, a key for few and a source for many. It is poetry, it is documented facts along with scripture, it is truth within the art and detailed, it is powerful. Then again, it may not be for you... If you don't believe in anything or anyone at all.
