E1LR60 - CARLIE NICHOLSON

"You're mine or you're his. I don't share." Caterina Zanetti has it all: a charmed life in the elegant, residential areas of Rome, a top of the range car, an aristocratic boyfriend and a glorious future as a pampered society housewife. Until her father persuades her to move to the USA and spend her second year of college at UCF in Orlando. In less than twenty-four hours, before she's even got over her jet lag, her whole life is turned upside down. Just one look at her handsome next-door neighbor is all it takes for her to question her perfect, programmed existence. "That's exactly the kind of guy you need to stay away from" her father warns as they get out of the taxi. Yes, because Benjamin Carter looks exactly like the kind of bad boy who makes smart girls do stupid things. Everyone thinks he has it all: women literally fall at his feet, he has the highest grades on his course and he's the singer in one of the most popular college rock bands in the city. Yet something is missing. Someone is missing. Someone who can help him realize that not everything in life is black or white, who'll stand up to him and force him to take off the mask he's been hiding behind all his life. And apparently, that someone has the yellow eyes of a wild cat and a sexy Italian accent that drives him crazy. Will he win the heart of the beautiful foreign student who is intent on keeping him at arm's length or, in the end, his wild, impetuous character will ruin it all? Matching Scars Series: → Choose Me can be read as a stand-alone. The second and the third novels of the Series must be read only after Choose Me. The series comprises of three main books (same couple) and three short stories (different characters).

This groundbreaking volume critically examines how writers in Japanese-occupied northeast China negotiated political and artistic freedom while engaging their craft amidst an increasing atmosphere of violent conflict and foreign control. The allegedly multiethnic utopian new state of Manchukuo (1932-1945) created by supporters of imperial Japan was intended to corral the creative energies of Chinese, Japanese, Koreans, Russians, and Mongols. Yet, the twin poles of utopian promise and resistance to a contested state pulled these intellectuals into competing loyalties, selective engagement, or even exile and death—surpassing neat paradigms of collaboration or resistance. In a semicolonial wrapped in the utopian vision of racial inclusion, their literary works articulating national ideals and even the norms of everyday life subtly reflected the complexities and contradictions of the era. Scholars from China, Korea, Japan, and North America investigate cultural production under imperial Japan's occupation of Manchukuo. They reveal how literature and literary production more generally can serve as a penetrating lens into forgotten histories and the lives of ordinary people confronted with difficult political exigencies. Highlights of the text include transnational perspectives by leading researchers in the field and a memoir by one of Manchukuo's last living writers. "This first-rate collection offers the most comprehensive overview of Manchukuo literature in any language. Containing an abundance of very original research and analysis, with relevant references to diverse sources in Chinese, English, Japanese, Korean, and Russian, the essays will be welcomed by scholars dealing with literary, historical, political, and colonization issues in Manchukuo and its neighbors." —Ronald Suleski, Suffolk University, Boston "Manchukuo Perspectives is an excellent contribution to the field. Manchukuo was a fascinating and fraught experiment. Colonialism, imperialism, modernism, and nationalism were just some of the many different forces at play there. With an impressive set of contributors bringing both breadth and depth to the study of these issues, this collection fills a void in our understanding of the cultural and literary production of Manchukuo wonderfully." —James Carter, Saint Joseph's University

Debbie Dart is just an ordinary 16 year old girl - she wants a horse for her birthday. But her dad, an inventor of top-secret gadgets, has a different idea! Debbie is given a surprise gift that exceeds her wildest imagination, and sets her on the first of many exciting adventures. "...in the centre of all this electricity and noise, something was appearing! It gave Debbie such a fright that she jumped backwards to get out of the way. All this only took a second. Debbie didn't know what to do - scream as loud as she could, cry, or burst with joyful excitement." A sci-fi full colour 52-page kids' adventure! Reading ages 8-12, but suitable for kids of all ages.

The New York Times bestselling author of Ming Tea Murder serves up heists, homicides, and herbal blends in the latest in the Tea Shop mysteries. Catering a high-class trunk show at Heart's Desire Jewelry is a shining achievement for Theodosia and the Indigo Tea Shop. After all, a slew of jewelers, museum curators, and private collectors will be there to showcase their wares and sip some of Theo's best blends. But just as Theo settles in to enjoy the fruits of her labor, the party is crashed by a gang of masked muggers who steal the precious gems and jewels on display. The thieves disappear almost as quickly as they arrived, leaving shattered glass, scattered gemstones, and a dead body in their wake. Although the last thing Theo wants is to get involved, she can't help but intercede when her dear friend Brooke, aunt of the victim and owner of Heart's Desire, begs for help in figuring out who committed the brutal burglary. Though the FBI believes this daring "smash and grab" is the work of an international gang of jewel thieves, Theo is convinced that the felon is someone much closer to home... INCLUDES RECIPES AND TEA TIME TIPS!

Caterina fa parte della Roma "bene": guida una macchina da snob, frequenta l'università privata più

prestigiosa della sua città, il suo ragazzo è un nobile ed è circondata da una realtà frivola che le calza a pennello. O almeno è quello che ha sempre pensato, finché il padre non la convince a trasferirsi a Orlando per frequentare il secondo anno di università alla UCF dove sarà costretta a fare i conti con la sua vera natura. La sua vita verrà stravolta in meno di 24 ore senza che abbia nemmeno il tempo di smaltire il jet-lag. Le basterà posare gli occhi sul bel vicino di casa per rimettere in discussione la sua vita troppo perfetta e già programmata. «Lui è proprio il tipo di ragazzo dal quale devi stare alla larga», l'ammonisce suo padre non appena scendono dal taxi. Già, perché Benjamin Carter ha tutta l'aria del ragazzaccio che fa fare cose stupide alle ragazze intelligenti. Tutti credono che sia abituato a ottenere quello che vuole: le donne gli cadono letteralmente ai piedi, è il miglior studente del suo corso, ha fondato e canta in un gruppo rock che sta diventando sempre più popolare a Orlando. Cosa potrebbe mai volere di più dalla vita? Eppure manca qualcosa. Manca qualcuno capace di fargli accettare che nella vita non è sempre per forza o tutto bianco o tutto nero, che gli tenga testa, che faccia cadere la maschera dietro la quale si nasconde da tutta la vita, perché è più facile così. E, a quanto pare, quel qualcuno ha due occhi gialli da gatta selvatica e un accento sexy da perdere la testa. Riuscirà a mettere da parte il suo carattere irruente per conquistare la bella straniera che lo tiene a debita distanza e che sembra essere caduta dal cielo proprio nel momento in cui aveva più bisogno di lei? Explanations of the mechanisms and kinetics of martensitic transformations and behavior of martensitic materials (such as shape memory alloys and high performance steels) form the backbone of this collection of reviews honoring materials science pioneer Morris Cohen of MIT. Among the topics: thermodynamics

Non è il principe azzurro... Callum Griffin è l'erede della mafia irlandese. È spietato, arrogante, e vorrebbe vedermi morta. Abbiamo iniziato col piede sbagliato quando ho appiccato un (piccolissimo) incendio in casa sua. Le nostre famiglie pensano che un matrimonio combinato sia l'unica cosa che possa evitare una guerra senza esclusione di colpi. Quanto a me, penso che magari potrei ucciderlo mentre dorme. Sarebbe molto più semplice se Callum non fosse tremendamente attraente. Tuttavia, il mio cuore è chiuso in cassaforte. Perché, anche se mi costringono a sposarlo... non potrò mai amare un principe crudele. * * * Principe crudele è il primo esplosivo atto dell'epica serie Eredi brutali. Si tratta di un romanzo dark sulla mafia, stand-alone, con lieto fine e senza finale aperto.

I'm Beatrice Kennedy, but everyone calls me Beat. I live a low-key life, fresh out of college and drifting from town to town until I find my home. I love music, and how it stirs even the deepest and untouched parts of your soul. Depending on what you choose to listen to, would depend on what it touches. It's the drug we all dander in, only different strains. My strain is Jazz. The smooth instrumental strums that take over me. The sound of cigar smoke, bourbon and an old dusty fedora hat. My strain wasn't rap, and it sure wasn't laced with some A-class shit like murky blue eyes casted down from the Lord and the Devil's handcrafted smile. I knew who he was--the whole world did. One fateful night set off a chain of events, events that no one was coming back from. You can't save people who don't want to be saved. You can't pull them up from the ocean when they've latched themselves to an anchor. Love was my anchor, destruction was the water that was drowning me, and the rope that was so tightly clamped around my ankles, was woven with the lyrics of Aeron Romanov-Reed, also known as, 'Manik. He steals hearts from all around the world, but one night, he stole something that wasn't his to steal. Me.

Prendete una serata in discoteca a elevato tasso alcolico, aggiungete una bionda mozzafiato che balla sensuale e, per Mark Carter, inguaribile latin lover, il gioco è fatto. Solo che con "lei" non ci si può semplicemente divertire per poi passare oltre. Con "lei" ci deve andare con i piedi di piombo, e anche quello potrebbe non bastare. Perché Jessica Sullivan non solo è la migliore amica di suo fratello da tutta una vita e la ex ragazza di uno dei componenti dei Matching Scars, ma anche la sua peggior nemica, la donna che tollera meno sulla faccia della Terra. E, allora, perché diavolo sente ancora il suo odore ovunque e, ogni volta che chiude gli occhi, si ritrova a rivivere ancora e ancora quell'unica notte che ha cambiato tutto? Aver ceduto alla passione con Jessica è stato grave; lasciare che altri lo scoprano, sarebbe un suicidio. Questo è un segreto che dovrà portarsi nella tomba... One of the most important Italian poets of the last century, Vittorio Sereni (1913–83) wrote with a historical awareness unlike that of any of his contemporaries. A poet of both personal and political responsibility, his work sensitively explores life under fascism, military defeat and imprisonment, and the resurgence of extreme right-wing politics, as well as the roles played by love and friendship in the survival of humanity. The first substantial translation of Sereni's oeuvre published anywhere in the world, The Selected Poetry and Prose of Vittorio Sereni is a unique guide to this twentieth-century poet. A bilingual edition, reissued in paperback for the poet's centenary, it collects Sereni's poems, criticism, and short fiction with a full chronology, commentary, bibliography, and learned introduction by British poet and scholar Peter Robinson.

Quanto dura "per sempre" quando hai solo vent'anni? Quando tutta la tua vita ruota intorno a un'unica persona, cosa succede se la perdi dall'oggi al domani senza una spiegazione, senza nemmeno una parola? Caterina è tornata a Roma, il suo anno di studi in Florida si è concluso e la sua vecchia vita l'attende a braccia aperte. Una vita che le va ormai stretta, in una città che non le appartiene più da troppo tempo. Sono passati due anni da quell'ultima serata passata in riva al mare con Benjamin Carter e, nonostante non abbia mai più avuto sue notizie, il ricordo del ragazzo che ha amato più di se stessa continua a opprimerla. Ricominciare da capo non è semplice ma un cambiamento è d'obbligo. È così che inizia l'avventura di Caterina in Canada: lontana da tutti, lontana dai ricordi e pronta a ricominciare una nuova vita. Conoscere nuove persone, trovare un lavoro, aprire il suo cuore e lasciarsi andare di nuovo all'amore sembra un'impresa impossibile, finché due occhi nocciola impertinenti la stendono al primo sguardo. Mai avrebbe pensato che il suo cuore malconcio avrebbe ricominciato a battere per un altro uomo: eppure eccolo là, Julian Steinfield, elegante, raffinato, maturo; e la desidera più di ogni altra cosa al mondo. Ma quando il passato bussa alla porta e ti piomba addosso come fosse un ciclone impazzito, qual è la cosa giusta da fare? Chiudere la porta senza guardarsi indietro o lasciarsi travolgere dalla sua forza?

Una raccolta di racconti, esistenze colpite dalla disgrazia o da un frammento di apparente felicità.

Moto GP, Annichilina e Olghina, Cecilia... questi alcuni dei nomi che riempiono le pagine e che si svelano e svelano, lasciando al lettore lo spazio dell'immaginazione, del pensiero. Dai racconti emergono Personaggi con la P maiuscola, pronti a guidare il lettore in una Sardegna che è radici e famiglia, sangue e polvere. Filo conduttore è un'autocoscienza necessaria, critica costante sulla e della realtà, che tenda la mano ai movimenti sociali in opposizione alla guerra, all'ingiustizia, alla disuguaglianza sociale. Vite accidentali è, come le opere precedenti della Mulas, un inno alla resistenza per la cultura della vita, l'augurio di riuscire a sottrarsi, con conoscenza illuminata da un istinto primordiale, agli abusi della ragione.

It's time we all stopped whining and learned a thing or two from The Toughest Cyclists Ever. Including: Stephen Roche, whose cure for exhaustion was to go up a gear and fight harder, all the way to the ambulance. Eddy Merckx, who hurt himself so badly in breaking the Hour record that, he estimated, he shortened his career by a year. Beryl Burton, who crushed her (male) rival's morale with the offer of a piece of liquorice, before speeding past to victory. Nicole Cooke and Edwig Van Hooydonck, who rejected dope and became legends. The Hardmen tells the stories - the good bits, anyway - of the 40 most heroic Cyclists ever. Their bravery, their panache and their Perfect Amount of Dumb. It reminds us that suffering on a bike liberates us from our daily lives, and that, in the words of Lance Armstrong "pain is temporary, quitting lasts forever"; proof that even assholes can be insightful.

Jirí Levý's seminal work, The Art of Translation, considered a timeless classic in Translation Studies, is now available in English. Having drawn on adjacent disciplines, the methodology of Czech functional sociosemiotic structuralism and the state-of-the art in the West, Levý synthesized his findings and experience in the field presenting them in a reader-friendly book, which combines the approaches of a theoretician, systemic analyst, historian, critic, teacher, practitioner and populariser. Although focused on literary translation from theoretical, descriptive and historical perspectives, it presents a conceptualization of a general theory, addressing a number of issues discussed today. The 'practical' mission of the book as a theory extending to practice is based on the same historical-dialectic affinity of methods, norms, functions and values, accounting for the translator's agency and other contextual agents involved in the communication process. The book will be useful to translators, researchers, students and teachers in Translation and Literary Studies.

Italian Gothic horror films of the 1970s were influenced by the violent giallo movies and adults-only comics of the era, resulting in a graphic approach to the genre. Stories often featured over-the-top violence and nudity and pushed the limits of what could be shown on the screen. The decade marked the return of specialist directors like Mario Bava, Riccardo Freda and Antonio Margheriti, and the emergence of new talents such as Pupi Avati (The House with the Laughing Windows) and Francesco Barilli (The Perfume of the Lady in Black). The author examines the Italian Gothic horror of the period, providing previously unpublished details and production data taken from official papers, original scripts and interviews with filmmakers, scriptwriters and actors. Entries include complete cast and crew lists, plot summaries, production history and analysis. An appendix covers Italian made-for-TV films and mini-series.

Esperanto, spoken by thousands of people across the world, is the most successful international language project. In this book, the French linguist and literary critic Pierre Janton describes the history of Esperanto since its invention in nineteenth-century Eastern Europe and offers a comprehensive linguistic description of the language. This book is the best general introduction to Esperanto and its role in the modern world. Rooted in the populism and internationalism of the late nineteenth century, Esperanto owes its origins in part to western European educational currents and in part to the cultural history of eastern European Jewry. It is a fascinating historical and sociological phenomenon as well as a remarkable linguistic system. The book contains a survey of today's movement for the promotion of Esperanto as an international language, and a description of the extensive literature in Esperanto, both original and translated. Janton also provides a survey of the other global language projects, explaining why Esperanto has prevailed.

Non è facile essere una Carter in un mondo dove il tuo cognome è la definizione per eccellenza di perfezione e tutti si sentono in diritto di ricordarti di continuo che tuo padre e tuo zio sono state delle leggende locali. Eva odia trovarsi al centro dell'attenzione, odia che le ragazze a scuola cerchino la sua amicizia solo per poter arrivare ai suoi cugini, odia dover subire il terzo grado da suo padre e da tutto il clan dei Carter ogni volta che muove un passo. Soprattutto da quando Jonathan, nemico giurato dei giovani Carter dai tempi delle elementari, ha smesso di guardarla come se fosse solo la bambina che abita in fondo alla strada e ha iniziato a trattarla da donna. Ma se il ragazzo per il quale Eva ha una cotta da sempre è considerato dalla sua famiglia come un prepotente senza speranza, come riuscirà lei, una quindicenne inesperta, a coronare il suo sogno a luci rosa? «Non innamorarti di lui... non ancora...». È passato un anno dalla notte tempestosa in cui Benjamin Carter è ripiombato nella vita di Caterina, giurandole amore eterno, per poi andarsene di nuovo, con la promessa di tornare da lei un giorno. Andare avanti non è stato facile, ma non ha avuto altra scelta se non quella di rimboccarsi le maniche e guardare al futuro, un futuro dolce e semplice che solo il bell'avvocato Julian Steinfield sembra essere in grado di offrirle. Ma il destino sembra non volersi arrendere e, ogni volta che Caterina pensa di essere guarita e immune al fascino del suo grande amore perduto, lui rispunta dal nulla, pronto a rimescolare le carte in tavola. Complice un concerto a New York City e un matrimonio al quale non può mancare, i due si ritroveranno l'uno davanti all'altra per la resa dei conti. Questa volta non basteranno promesse vuote e muri invalicabili per difendersi: quando si troveranno davanti al bivio più importante della loro vita, dovranno decidere da che parte andare consapevoli che, una volta imboccata una strada, non si potrà più tornare indietro.

Timeless lyric poetry by a contemporary European master.

Computers offer new perspectives in the study of language, allowing us to see phenomena that previously remained obscure because of the limitations of our vantage points. It is not uncommon for computers to be likened to the telescope, or microscope, in this respect. In this pioneering computer-assisted study of translation, Dorothy Kenny suggests another image, that of the kaleidoscope: playful changes of perspective using corpus-processing software allow textual patterns to come into focus and then recede again as others take their place. And against the background of repeated patterns in a corpus, creative uses of language gain a particular prominence. In Lexis and Creativity in Translation, Kenny monitors the translation of creative source-text word forms and collocations uncovered in a specially constructed German-English parallel corpus of literary texts. Using an abundance of examples, she reveals evidence of both normalization and ingenious creativity in translation. Her discussion of lexical creativity draws on insights from traditional morphology, structural semantics and, most notably, neo-Firthian corpus linguistics, suggesting that rumours of the demise of linguistics in translation studies are greatly exaggerated. Lexis and Creativity in Translation is essential reading for anyone interested in corpus linguistics and its impact so far on translation studies. The book also offers theoretical and practical guidance for researchers who wish to conduct their own corpus-based investigations of translation. No previous knowledge of German, corpus linguistics or computing is assumed.

Rex Gunner. As bitter as he is beautiful. The owner of the largest construction company in Gingham Lakes has been burned one too many times. His wife leaving him to raise their daughter was the last blow this single dad could take. The only woman he'll let into his heart is his little girl. The owner of the largest construction company in Gingham Lakes has been burned one too many times. His wife leaving him to raise their daughter was the last blow this single dad could take. The only woman he'll let into his heart is his little girl. When Rex meets his new neighbor, he knows he's in trouble. She's gorgeous and sweet and everything he can't trust. Until she becomes the one thing he can't resist. One kiss sends them tumbling toward ecstasy. But in a town this size, pasts are bound to collide. Caught in a web of lies, betrayal, and disloyalty, Rex must make a choice. Will he hide behind his walls or will he take the chance ...

A retrospective which explores Italian cinema as a means of promoting the landscape, the protagonists themselves talk about the most common and surprising links between cinema and landscape, showing us a different side of Italian film history.

The newly revised and expanded edition of this language helper presents nearly 6,000 English words and phrases categorized by practical subject themes and translated into their Italian equivalents. Subject theme groupings include numbers and measurements, as well as words and phrases related to greeting, travel situations, shopping, using the telephone, and many others. New sections in this edition deal with computer and electronics terminology, pop culture, and finance. Type is set in two colors as an extra quick reference aid.

The "Gothic" style was a key trend in Italian cinema of the 1950s and 1960s because of its peculiar, often strikingly original approach to the horror genre. These films portrayed Gothic staples in a stylish and idiosyncratic way, and took a daring approach to the supernatural and to eroticism, with the presence of menacing yet seductive female witches, vampires and ghosts. Thanks to such filmmakers as Mario Bava (Black Sunday), Riccardo Freda (The Horrible Dr. Hichcock), and Antonio Margheriti (Castle of Blood), as well the iconic presence of actress Barbara Steele, Italian Gothic horror went overseas and reached cult status. The book examines the Italian Gothic horror of the period, with an abundance of previously unpublished production information drawn from official papers and original scripts. Entries include a complete cast and crew list, home video releases, plot summary and the author's analysis. Excerpts from interviews with filmmakers, scriptwriters and actors are included. The foreword is by film director and scriptwriter Ernesto Gastaldi.

When civil war erupts in Somalia, cousins Domenica Axad and Barni are separated and forced to flee the country. Barni manages to eke out a living in Rome, where she works as an obstetrician. Domenica wanders Europe in a painful attempt to reunite her broken family and come to terms with her past. After ten years, the two women reunite. When Domenica gives birth to a son, Barni, also known as Little Mother, is at her side. Together with the new baby, Domenica and Barni find their Somali roots and start to heal the pain they have suffered in war and exile. This powerful yet tender novel underscores the strength of women, family, and community, and draws on the tenacious yearning for a homeland that has been denied.

La prima volta che lo vedo, mi sembra la personificazione del potere: minaccia allo stato puro e muscoli frementi, nonostante le manette ai polsi. È pericoloso. È selvaggio. Ma è anche l'uomo più bello che io abbia mai visto. Quindi, mi nascondo dietro ai miei occhiali e al mio libro come faccio sempre, perché anch'io ho dei segreti. Poi, però, decide di partecipare al corso di scrittura che tengo all'interno della prigione, e mi conquista con la sua onestà. Nelle storie che scrive, mi racconta i suoi segreti e diventa sempre più difficile nascondere il mio. Quando si avvicina troppo, rabbrivisco. Solo le manette, le sbarre e le guardie lo trattengono. Di notte, non riesco a smettere di pensare a lui, da solo nella sua cella. Ma è proprio quello il problema, con un animale in gabbia: non si può mai sapere quando morderà. Potrebbe usarti per scappare. Potrebbe persino trascinarti in una foresta e metterti una mano sulla bocca, per impedirti di chiamare la polizia. Potrebbe farti raggiungere l'estasi con tale intensità da anebbiarti la mente, impedendoti di pensare. E tu potresti arrivare a desiderarlo più del tuo prossimo respiro.

Erotic memoir

When in 1895 twenty-one-year-old Guglielmo Marconi made his first wireless transmission over land, he became the boy wonder of the world. When subsequently, he made similar transmissions across the Atlantic Ocean, thus proving to the world that his radio-related inventions had immediate and wide-spread applications for all of humanity, young Marconi ushered in the Age of Communication. The life, the works, the character of one of the greatest scientists of this Century, Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor of the Radio, are described in this carefully documented, impassioned and deeply involved book by an exceptional witness: his wife Maria Cristina. He was called 'The genius who gave a voice to silence'. Acclaimed by the whole world, the recipient of the most prestigious honours and decorations, he never lost his innate modesty and discretion even at the height of his success.

Tucker McCade has known violence his whole life: orphaned in a massacre, abused as a "half-breed" child, trained as a ruthless Texas Ranger, he's learned the hard way that might makes right. So even he is shocked when he falls for Sallie Mae Reynolds, a Quaker nurse. Unable to resist Tucker's charm, character and chiselled body, she throws herself into their torrid affair, indulging every one of her wildest sexual fantasies. Tucker's occupation, however, is the one thing about him she can't embrace. A staunch pacifist, Sallie Mae can't understand how his strong, caressing hand can clench in fury or pull a trigger to take a life. In this lawless land, Tucker knows you have to fight to survive. But when Sallie Mae becomes pregnant, he's willing to do whatever it takes to have his family; including hanging up his guns. Every night they spend together binds them ever closer; until the day his past comes calling.

The Italian Metamorphosis, 1943-1968 is the first book to bring together all aspects of Italian visual culture from this fascinating period. Through seventeen scholarly essays and hundreds of lavish full-color and duotone reproductions, this volume captures the era's greatest achievements in the fields of painting, sculpture, artists' crafts, literature, photography, cinema, fashion, architecture, and design.
