Here are some ideal ways you can practice attachment parenting with older children. Know Your Child's Friends and People Who Are Close If your child has been invited to a playdate at a friend's house, be sure to ask the parents of your child's friend some very important key questions such as whether they keep guns in the house and who will be there to supervise the children.

Playfulness, acceptance, curiosity and empathy (PACE) are four valuable elements of parenting that, combined with love, can help children to feel confident and secure. This book shows why these elements are so important to a child's development, and demonstrates to parents and carers how they can incorporate them into their day-to-day parenting.
