6A50VB - EZRA FERNANDA

Dancing On My Grave was dedicated to Joseph Duell, a dancer with the New York City Ballet who committed suicide in 1986, in hopes "that the cry for help might yet be heard". One of the most touching lines in Dancing on My Grave is Kirkland saying of Balanchine, "I never knew what to do with my love for him." She rose in the company during a period when Balanchine was still mostly in his post-Farrell funk, and one wonders if things might have been different for Kirkland and for him (and possibly for the history of ballet) if circumstances had been more propitious.
