Dead ball - Wikipedia
Dead-ball fouls apply to the continuing action after a play: a late hit out of bounds, a celebration infraction, or if a fight that develops after the play. As long as there is continuing action attached to the previous down, a dead-ball foul can occur. But, take an example like an offense's 12-in-the-huddle foul.

In the sport of association football, fouls and misconduct are acts committed by players which are deemed by the referee to be unfair and are subsequently penalised. An offence may be a foul, misconduct or both depending on the nature of the offence and the circumstances in which it occurs. Fouls and misconduct are addressed in Law 12 of the Laws of the Game. A foul is an unfair act by a player, deemed by the referee to contravene the game's laws, that interferes with the active play of the game
