Q4VF70 - RICHARD SANTOS

Whether you feel spiritually depleted or just need a good jumpstart then Recharge is for you. This book is packed with relevant inspiration that will renew your spirit and strengthen your faith.

Find your purpose for living through loving. Finding the love you need will only happen when you discover your true purpose for living. Bishop Joseph Walker's Date with Destiny will help you help you fit your plans into the deeper and richer plan God has for you. Only then will you be able to get your relationships right. Bishop Walker gives you the tools you need to fit the pieces of the relationship puzzle together. He shows how to embrace the concept that God means for all of us to have satisfying relationships. "This book sheds light on the power of purpose in relationships for couples. Why does God bring us together? Is there a purpose bigger than us? To these questions, I would argue, YES! When two people understand their purpose in life, it becomes a qualifier for healthy relationships. God merges their individual purposes so that they complement, not compete with each other." from the book

Our world isn't slowing down, so only those who are willing to maneuver the tectonic cultural shifts will have sustainable ministry. From his extensive experience and using the biblical story of Joseph as an extended metaphor, Bishop Joseph Walker shares practical wisdom designed to help leaders reach out and equip their church to share a relevant Christian message. Joseph W. Walker III is bishop of Mount Zion Baptist Church of Nashville, Tennessee. Under his leadership and over a span of twenty years, the church has grown from 175 to more than 28,000 members. During this time, Bishop Walker has seen people struggle to embrace the new things God is doing; and he fully appreciates how change heightens the demands of leadership. Shifting approaches to follow where God leads can also mean that leaders have to risk confronting cherished tradition, which Bishop Paul Morton calls

"frozen success." But shifting to meet new opportunities is also a delicate balance that acknowledges history while also being sensitive to those loyal people who have sustained the organization to this point. Effective leadership does not impose new ideas upon old systems without a strategy that enables everyone in the organization moving forward together. It's not simply, "out with the old and in with the new." Successful organizations do not forget their history, but they commit themselves to using it as a bridge to propel them to their destiny.

Whatever It Takes is specifically designed for every pastor, worship leader, choir member, and musician who is serious about taking corporate worship to another dimension of spiritual encounter. All over the world the faithful gather in places identified as the house of the Lord in hopes of experiencing the manifest presence of God. Our songs, prayers of invocation, and overall liturgy are a continuous effort to this end, acknowledging that there is always more of God to be experienced. The question is: Do we really want another dimension of spiritual experience? And if so, are we willing to do whatever it takes?

This book is full of wisdom and advice from a respected Christian couple. There's a lot more to marriage than saying "I do." It is a commitment made by two people before God. In general, we all know what marriage is, but this book takes us a step further.

Do you need to make a new start? Sometimes we feel as if we need to start over, to allow God to do a "hard reset" of our lives. It is possible to return to God and reclaim your relationship with Him. In Reset Your Life: Make a New Start, Joseph W. Walker III uses eight "R's" (Reset, Return, Review and Recalculate, Reclaim, Redirect, Reinvigorate and Revive, Reinvest, and Reinvent) to teach how you can have a new beginning through faith in God. Features include: The eight "R's" to a making a new start through faith in God End-of-chapter questions for individual thought or group discussion

Don't treat the consequence. Treat the cause. This book will help you gain a greater understanding of the issues that are consuming your life and will guide you toward living a life of social, emotional, and spiritual wellness. Through Jesus Christ we have the ability to be completely free of the emotional, social, and spiritual struggles that have us bound. But to experience lasting change we must stop dealing only with the symptoms and get to the root issue. In Restored at the Root, Dr. Joseph W. Walker III shows readers how to break free of demonic attack for good by teaching them how to do the following: Identify the demonic activity beneath their emotional, social, and spiritual turmoil Understand the authority they have to cast out demons Find the courage to confront the issue instead of trying to camouflage it Charismatics tend to deal with life issues only from a spiritual perspective. This book goes a step further by discussing the intersection between spiritual authority and clinical spiritual counseling. That way, readers can identify underlying issues at work, which can help save their lives, marriages, and ministries.

When Paul Morton was born, his father prophesied that Paul would be a great preacher one day. As the son of an influential pastor of two churches, Paul was raised in the Word and encouraged to follow his father into the pulpit. But God had a different plan for Paul, one that required change, risk, hardship, and a powerful faith. His earthly father had a vision for him, and his heavenly Father brought that and much more to fruition. "Changing Forward" is Bishop Paul Morton's story of God's faithfulness. When Paul was offered a record contract singing pop music, God made it clear that was not the change He wanted. When he found himself the pastor of a large New Orleans church at only twenty-four years old, God used Paul to bring renewal to that church and its people. When Hurricane Katrina destroyed New Orleans, God called that same church not only to come back stronger but also to grow and add a second location in another state. This is also the story of the birth of The Full Gospel Baptist Fellowship, one of the fastest-growing and most influential fellowships in the church. Not just one man but many people and multiple churches had to step out in faith. That willingness to change forward as led by the Holy Spirit defines the life of Paul Morton and the church to which he has committed his life. Although he had to overcome many obstacles that would defeat a lesser man, Bishop Morton prevailed, moving forward every time. His sometimes humorous, sometimes heartbreaking, always compelling journey stands as an example to any who would follow God's urging to change, grow, and move forward in faith.

Critical Collaboration is about the critical need for partnership between pastors and mental health professionals in service to urban African American communities. While the historically African American church has done commendable work in its virtually exclusive role as emotional caregiver, there is a disproportionate susceptibility to certain mental illnesses in the African American community, which calls for a collaborative effort to advance the cause of holistic health. Critical Collaboration provides historical, socioeconomic, theological, and psychological contexts that serve to increase the awareness and cultural competence needed to bridge the gap between the professional communities of faith and mental health.

YOU CAN LOVE AGAIN 2! By Simon Gordon You will find in this literary work an opportunity to confirm the history of how you've experienced love. You will also have a chance to observe the patterns of how you've expressed love and get answers for questions of why some levels of love aren't enough to rescue some relationships! Great for discussion will be Chapters like "Loving In The Dark" for dealing with misunderstandings and "I Expected More But I Got Less" for learning how to turn broken anticipation into healing opportunities. There is also dialogue included for people who are in transition, like "The Danger Of Aesthetic Attraction". For those who say, 'I'm not getting any attention', "The Art of Campaigning" is a great tool for self observation, reflection and making positive steps and decisions towards having both healthy responses and healthy results in the future!

Love is silent, yet it speaks. It's motionless yet it moves. It's senseless, yet you can sense it. It's odorless yet it has a fragrance. Love is mysterious, with a touch of brilliance. It's complicated but ever so irresistible. Love is the only reason you picked up this book; in hope for answers, in hope of some type of relief from this madness called love. It's one thing to try to tackle love, but to try to tackle YOUNG LOVE is another whole story.

This book encapsulates the seminal work Bishop Johnson first presented to the School of Ministry for the Full Gospel Baptist Church Fellowship in July 1995. The content has been revised, so as to impart to the leaders of the 21st century church; particularly pastors and elders; territorial overseers; auxiliary leaders; bishops; apostles; and prophets.

The Christian Church has transformed itself many times since its tenets took root and after the mostly violent deaths of the original apostles. Consequently, the contemporary church may resemble the original intent of its apostolic fathers only slightly and may have subsequently assumed an identity and life of its own. The original footprint of the first-century church could not easily fit the church, as it has evolved after coming through reformations, denominations, attacks by rival religions, and the tactics and tenets of Christian zealots, theological debates, and fairly exhaustive apologetics. The intent of this book is to navigate the reader through the murky waters of theological distortions and religious bias to the calmer and clearer seas of divine intent and purpose. The 49 Purposes of the Christian Church is not a comprehensive treatise on the purposeful design of the Christian Church from any denominational bias or perspective; however, it does lend itself to the basics of evangelism and congregational order as defined or implied in New Testament scripture. Bishop Earnest L. Palmer

Bishop Eddie Long, the pastor of one of the largest churches in Atlanta, confronts the modern American church as being self-centered, introverted, and more interested in entertainment than in ministry. But he doesn't simply indict the church without giving answers. Taking Over includes Long's innovative--and sometimes controversial--ideas, which are causing city leaders to look to him, and to God, for answers. This unprecedented book will bring the church into the new millennium, ready to reign and bring God's solutions to society's problems.

All of the processing you have ever experienced was designed to refine the prophetic in you and to propel you into the prophetic promises God preordained from the beginning. Author Jocelyn Y. Buckley provides considerable insight on the prophetic that extends beyond the walls of tradition and into the realm of the supernatural. Through revelatory counsel from God, as it pertains to her own traditional background, Buckley carves into form the mysteries surrounding prophetic operations. The Spirit of God will solve these mysteries in your own prophetic journey as you listen while He speaks. From beginning to end, you will find yourself becoming deeper and deeper Submerged in the Prophetic. "Everyone needs someone to unlock the gift that's in them. Prophetess Jocelyn does just that in her freshman book, helping to unlock the prophetic that's in all of us!" —Bishop Gregory M. Davis, Television and Radio Host "Each page is steeped in revelatory truths and permeated with insightful tools for pastors, prophets, and parishioners. Become submerged in a life and ministry enhancing journey in the prophetic!" —Bishop David C. Cooper, SW Regional Bishop, FGBCFI For more information visit www.submergedintheprophetic.com.

You pray. You have faith that God will answer your prayers in specific way. Then God answers your prayers. However, He does things differently than you asked and anticipated. So how are we to handle it when it God's plan for our lives conflicts with our plan for our lives? What do we do when God doesn't do what we want, when we want, and how we want? In this book, the Old Testament character Naaman will teach us both the wrong way and the right way to handle it when God doesn't do things our way. It's very likely that you'll find yourself on the front seat of Naaman's emotional roller coaster. It's probable that as you read Naaman's words that you'll hear your own voice as you recall certain situations in your life. Read this book and assume the position of a student and consider Naaman as your teacher. You'll learn valuable insights into walking by faith as God moves in your life however He chooses.

I stood at the front of the church to greet the congregants. To my far left I observed a young woman standing there. She desperately wanted to be free from her past. When she approached me, I extended my hand and gave her a smile. To make her feel comfortable I sat down on the steps that lead to the pulpit and I asked her to join me. She agreed and the conversation began. In this woman, I experienced the frustration of trying to help someone so broken. I had never seen anyone so emotionally fragile. Many days I felt inadequate to help her. With that feeling, I cried a lot. Every time I felt like really throwing in the towel, I continued to hear Jesus say to me "if you walk away now, you are saying she is not worth it and Calvary wasn't enough." Each time I heard that, it pierced the core of my soul. Throughout this book, you will read entries from her personal journals. The entries represent the voices of many individuals in this world who are trapped by their past and held captive by their present. We've been soothed for far too long. Finally, it's time for you to be healed.

This is the 1st literary book the writer will unmask mess & tell one's miracles & God will come through dark regions & bring others to the light. There will be debates how humanity innate the sins of Adam & Eve. The book will expose physical & mental abuse, pride, angelic host, demonic forces, anger, hatred, & churches that are under attack. The Black Church is a history of a rich past, a vibrant present, and a promising future particularly within the African American community. The black church has a wealthy tradition of religious experience in the history of the church. The burden of conventional views regarding the black church in our society is vague and often disregarded in the mainstream of our Christian faith due to the lack of knowledge and possible stereotypical mind-sets. To resolve this, the black church's identity must be expressed and respected in the history of Christendom. The black church has always been a beacon of hope to many people of color who search for strength, fellowship, and validation with their faith in God and among all Christian believers throughout the world.

"What In The Hell Happened?" is a transparent look at relationship covenants of man from a real, "raw" approach from a mature, established 21st century member of clergy. Bishop A.L. Smith brings a viewpoint unlike any other to the children of God about how to build, nurture or dissolve an established relationship, while maintaining or rebuilding one's covenant with Christ. This manual will bring light to those that have ever had to ask themselves, "What In The Hell Happened?" and will be a great benefit to those who have yet to establish covenants before God and man so that they will not have to be among those who have already asked themselves that same question. It is written to assist anyone of any age, creed, social status or denomination to reach the Destiny that God has ordained. It will indeed be a blessing to anyone receptive to God's word!!!!

The premise behind A Primer on Structure and Protocol is as the title suggests: "a guide for fellowships, prelates, protocol officers, and certain other pastors." A primer is a textbook created broadly for teaching or presenting some of the basic elements of a subject. The impetus to write this book came from things I have observed in the past few years that created in my spirit the burning need to be the "iron that sharpeneth iron." I love the Body of Christ, and want to see all of its servants succeed; and avoid the pitfalls that have toppled - or nearly toppled - other Fellowships, including the place where I currently serve. Even though the approach to each topic/chapter in this book might seem to have been hypothetical, everything I have written has been based on something I've observed, firsthand. The recommendations originated with the basic question, "What would *I do, in that situation?" Writing them down, my objective was to provoke you to ask the same question. If the end-result of this book is that we end up with better "Fellowships" - LEGENDARY Fellowships - then we will have done what we set out to do.

This devotional was placed on my heart to share with readers like you as you endeavor to achieve all that you can in this life. The only way that we will fulfill God's will is by spending time with Him.

"When A Father Fails" is the life story of an urban pastor who was a public image but a private failure. Follow his journey as he honestly shares the reasons for his failure and his struggle to overcome his past transgressions. This book was written as a salute to all children who strive to overcome their father's own failures in their life. This book is also intended to lift the spirit of those wounded by life and to encourage every invisible father to pursue reconciliation with their children today.

Jewels for the Journey will inspire you. All of us desire a fulfilled, enriched, and engaged life. We hunger for a life that brings us satisfaction, validates our worth, and give us a sense of purpose. Life, however can be challenging and at times doesn't turn out as you've planned. If not careful, these difficulties can extinguish your passion, rob you of your hope, and steal your dreams. Hardship and difficulties are unavoidable; however the key to your fulfillment in life is not the absence of these challenges, but the successful navigation of them. The Jewels for the journey is a thought provoking, whimsical, funny and at times touching book designed to offer practical insights on everyday difficulties. It challenges the reader to view problems as learning opportunities. Each of our hardships, when overcome, can produce gems of wisdom that are far more valuable than emeralds and rubies. It's what old folk use to mean when they would say "I wouldn't take nothing for my journey." Your passion can be rekindled, your hope restored, and your dreams fulfilled as you expose Jewels on your Journey.

This is straight talk and teaching. Bishop Joseph W. Walker III draws on scripture to describe five ways for men and women to give and receive the kind of love that leads to what we all want--a fulfilling committed relationship. These steps include how to be ready for a holy hookup, meeting the standard, being real, being on the same team, and living to the glory of God together. "A long-lasting, loving, intimate relationship is a beautiful thing. I should know because I've been blessed with two. The day I married Dr. Diane Greer was one of the happiest days of my life... But that did not last because Diane died a few years later...This past year I married Dr. Stephaine Hale. It was a day I will never forget. God gave me the desires of my heart and proved to me that He is a restorer...I am convinced that that day began the best days of the rest of my life...Because I've been there, I also know that relationships take work. They don't just happen. They are give and take propositions... But after all the fluff is brushed away, there are five basic steps in this journey of getting together and staying together." from the book

Based on Bishop Joseph Walker's powerful book: Date with Destiny: Find the Love You Need Bishop Walker contends that finding the love you need only happens when you discover your true purpose for living. Date with Destiny: 40 Devotions to Help You Find the Love You Need takes you through heartfelt, biblically inspired devotions that encourage and equip you for loving God's way.

He Didn't Marry the Bishop is a book for individuals that are ready to face and admit the mistakes of their past while determined not to allow what happened then to decrease the power and possibility of what is happening now! Too often people share their glory without the details of the painful story. La'Tresa decided to share the good, the bad and the ugly of her life, believing it would pull and/or push people into owning their truth in a non-apologetic manner because there is a difference between bragging and being delivered!!! This book deals with mental and emotional bondage that is very seldom talked about regarding those in leadership but has the ability to rule one's destiny if not dealt with. He Didn't Marry the Bishop is an amazing tool for those that are simply tired of playing the pretend game of having it all together while hiding behind their faith. This book is La'Tresa's candid outline of what it means to expose your faults and still lead the crowd, as opposed to getting lost in it. Too often leaders are leading while bleeding and no one challenges the stains of their errors. Freedom begins when you face the very things that you've been keeping secret.

Have you ever sat in the pews of your church, observed an unfavorable or seemingly insensitive response to a situation, and asked the question, "Why did they do that?!" Did the situation somehow rub you the wrong way and leave you sad, angry or in shock? After you asked the question, did you ever seek an answer? It's so easy for us to blame it on "them," isn't it? In my many years of ministry experience, I've asked myself this question more than I would like to admit. What I discovered is that as a casual visitor it would be okay for me to ask this question. As a member or ministry leader, I should know the answer. Why Did We Do That?! serves as a practical tool to assist in the discovery and evaluation of why we do what we do. Everyone from the pulpit to the back pew who actively engages in this experience with their leadership will gain a fuller understanding of their church's mission, values and beliefs that impact every person who enters your church doors.

Hundreds of books claim to offer the best in physical fitness programs. But rarely is time taken to reflect on what kind of shape we are in spiritually. A gifted pastor and preacher, as well as a dynamic teacher, Kenneth Ulmer offers Christians a different kind of fitness program--the eternal kind. Training to Win is a spiritual fitness program that helps Christians move beyond the surface "spirituality" that has become so popular in today's culture to a much deeper level--godliness. "Paul told us to train ourselves for godliness," Ulmer writes. "Our target--the mark we shoot for, the purpose for which we are called--is godliness." Training to Win is an engaging look at the Scriptures that takes you step-by-step through the issues and hurdles of training toward godliness. It is divided into three sections that explore the principle of godliness, the process of godliness, and the practice of godliness. Set in a reader-interactive, Bible study format complete with questions at the end of each chapter, Training to Win will lead you to the "work-out" of your life--one that will lead you to peace, understanding and eternal spiritual fitness.

Elder Bertha M. Greene is the Founder and Pastor of Sacred Zion Full Gospel Church in Baltimore, MD. She currently serves as State Overseer for the Full Gospel Baptist Church Fellowship of Maryland, under the leadership of Bishop Paul S. Morton. In From The Cradle To The Pulpit, Dr. Greene intimately shares her personal story on how God took her from harvesting cotton as a little girl in the scorching hot fields of North Carolina to harvesting souls for His glory in pulpits across the country. Bertha Greene has been commissioned to help the fallen be raised to stand and even through the many trials of her own life; including losing her only biological son, she has remained steadfast in her call and her duty to minister God's Word to the lost. Her life is a true testimony that no matter how hard life gets, when God has a Call on your life, nothing is impossible!

This is a collection of thoughts, principles, and wisdom I have accumulated over the years! Life is too profound to ignore these truths and the message is too powerful to just put this read down!
