Hypermodern Times by Gilles Lipovetsky (4 star ratings) Individuals are gnawed by anxiety; fear has superimposed itself on their pleasures, and anguish on their liberation. Hypermodernity is a society characterized by movement, fluidity and flexibility, distanced more than ever from the great structuring principles of modernity.

But there are now signs - argues Gilles Lipovetsky, one of the most original social thinkers in France today - that we've entered a new phase of 'hypermodernity', characterized by hyper-consumption and the hypermodern individual. Hyperconsumption is a consumption which absorbs and integrates more and more spheres of social life and which encourages individuals to consume for their own personal ...

Lipovetsky is one of those French philosophers who've rebuilt their intellectual tradition after the wreckage of Foucault, Derrida, and the postmodernist gang. This slim book packs a punch, dismissing catastrophe claims of others in "trajectory of civilization" circles. Lipovetsky sees ills of Western civilization more as transitional.

Henrik Anckarsäter: "Hypermodern times" by Gilles Lipovetsky and psychiatry New hospitals use cutting-edge technologies to supervise patients. This book is not yet featured on Listopia. According to GL, the hypermodern age is marked by paradox, transience, insecurity, and anxiety.
