Just a Little Run Around the World by Rosie Swale-Pope ...

Swale wrote a book about her experiences entitled "Just a Little Run Around the World: 5 Years, 3 Packs of Wolves and 53 Pairs of Shoes", which was released on 28 May 2009. The British progressive rock band Big Big Train's song The Passing Widow (from the 2017 album The Second Brightest Star) was written about Swale's round-the-world run. Rosie's solo run around the world started out of sorrow and heartache and a wish to turn something around. Heartbroken when she lost her husband to cancer, Rosie set off from Wales with nothing but a small backpack of food and equipment, and funded by the rent from her little cottage.

Just A Little Run Around

In Just a Little Run Around the World, she describes running, yes, around the world after her partner died. It's funny how much perspective changes when you're talking about a five-year run rather than, say, a five-hour run.
