Mahmoud Darwish

Mahmoud Darwish was a Palestinian poet and author who was regarded as the Palestinian national poet. He won numerous awards for his works. Darwish used Palestine as a metaphor for the loss of Eden, birth and resurrection, and the anguish of dispossession and exile. He has been described as incarnating and reflecting "the tradition of the political poet in Islam, the man of action whose action is poetry." He also served as an editor for several literary magazines in Israel.

Mahmoud Darwish - Wikipedia

Palestinian Mahmoud Darwish was born in al-Birwa in Galilee, a village that was occupied and later razed by the Israeli army. Because they had missed the official Israeli census, Darwish and his family were considered "internal refugees" or "present-absent aliens." Darwish lived for many years in exile in Beirut and Paris.

1) Darwish was born in a village in the western Galilee. One editor states that there was no such a thing as the Galilee in 1941. I do seem to remember there was a preacher named Jesus who spent some time there at least a few years before that. 2) Darwish was indeed an Israeli citizen until he was stripped of Israeli citizenship for joining the PLO.
