In Elliot Aronson's book, Nobody Left to Hate, he does a profound job of conveying strong emotions felt by those involved in and affected by the Columbine shooting to his reader. I know that I personally felt saddened, touched and overall; very grateful for all that I have after reading this novel.

 NOBODY LEFT TO HATE !8 It is becoming increasingly clear that a large number of school administrators have been tempted to go this route. They do this because, on the surface, this intervention seems sensible and harmless. Moreover, from the perspective of a bureaucrat, it is a self-serving response.
