Repentance (Hebrew : תשובה, literally, "return", pronounced "tshuva" or "teshuva") is one element of atoning for sin in Judaism. Judaism recognizes that everybody sins on occasion, but that people can stop or minimize those occasions in the future by repenting for past transgressions.

Primarily, what Teshuvah presents is a guide to preparing one's heart, mind, and soul for the acceptance of a life devoted to Torah and mitzvos.

Teshuvah - The Laws of Teshuvah - Texts & Writings

Teshuvah is the Hebrew word for repentance and literally means to return to YHVH... and obey Him. Deuteronomy 4:30 30 “When you are in distress and all these things have come upon you, in the latter days you will return to YHVH your Elohim and listen to His voice.

Teshuvah is one of the great gifts God gives each of us – the ability to turn back to Him and seek healing for our brokenness. Psalm 51 is sometimes called "Perek Teshuvah" – the great Chapter of Repentance of the Scriptures.

Resolve (kabalah) There seems to be a part of us that is all too ready to avoid work, effort and discomfort. The key to teshuva, to lasting growth, is to eliminate the confusion of comfort with pleasure. Comfort is nothing more than the absence of pain; while pain and effort and discomfort are usually prerequisites for lasting pleasure.
