The Power of One is a novel by Australian author Bryce Courtenay, first published in 1989. Set in South Africa during the 1930s and 1940s, it tells the story of an English boy who, through the course of the story, acquires the name of Peekay. (In the movie version, the protagonist's given name is Peter Phillip Kenneth Keith, but not in the book.

The Power of One (The Power of One, #1) by Bryce Courtenay

The Power of One is a 1992 drama film loosely based on Bryce Courtenay's 1989 novel of the same name. Set in South Africa during World War II, the film centers on the life of Peter Philip Kenneth-Keith, an English South African boy raised under apartheid, and his conflicted relationships with a German pianist, a Coloured boxing coach and an Afrikaner romantic interest.

The Power of One is an intriguing story of a young English boy named Peekay and his passion for changing the world. Growing up he suffered as the only English boy in an Afrikaans school. Soon orphaned, he was placed in the care of a German national named Professor von Vollensteen (a.k.a. "Doc"), a friend of his grandfather.

For the young Peekay, its a piece of advice he will carry with him throughout his life. Born in a South Africa divided by racism and hatred, this one small boy will come to lead all the tribes of Africa. Through enduring friendships with Hymie and Gideon, Peekay gains the strength he needs to win out.

The Power of One (1992) - Plot Summary - IMDb

The Power of One is about a young boy named Peekay who throughout his life has to fight adversity as well as persevere through hardships. There are both things that I enjoy as well as dislike about this novel. First, I enjoy this book because I can relate to his young character because I am a young person as well.
