Read, read, read. The more times you 'see' a word the more easily you will remember it. Use the new words. You need to use a new word about ten times before you remember it! Do word puzzles and games like crosswords, anagrams and wordsearches. Make word cards and take them with you. Read them on the bus or when you are waiting for your friends.

The 10x rule is a concept which says that whenever you think to achieve something, do 10 times more than you previously thought. Whatever you think that you need to do, or what you are expected to do to get things done, just do way more.

What the user means is 10:1 and 4:1 Test Accuracy Ratio (TAR). That is, one uses standards 4 or 10 times as accurate as the Unit Under Test (UUT) to calibrate it with. Unfortunately, the answer to the user's question is NEVER if we were to use newer metrologically accepted practices. The TAR is replaced by Test Uncertainty Ratio (TUR).

This 4th degree, also know as the 10 X Rule, is that level of action that guarantees companies and individuals realize their goals and dreams. The 10 X Rule unveils the principle of "Massive Action," allowing you to blast through business clichés and risk-aversion while taking concrete steps to reach your dreams.

Book Summary: The 10X Rule by Grant Cardone
