Bought an old Yamaha (Moto 4 250) and the thing won't start. It will start with choke full on - but close choke and it'll die. If you give it gas - it dies. It will take throttle with choke on (and smoke like a chimney). When I first got it the thing would start periodically - but again soon as you give it throttle it died.

Hello everyone, I have a rare Moto cross bike that only made it into the states for one year. This 92 Yamaha has been a great bike for when I road the trails with it. The name throws it off, however it's a 250cc bike 2 stroke that has a hint of sound of a 4 stroke. Once you hit the power band you'll always get a smile on your face.
